

Sunday Oct. 22, 6 pm

Dr. Tim Clarey will speak on:

"Creation Basics: A Recent Global Flood"

Woodin Valley Baptist Church,
5400 228th St. SE, Bothell, WA

<http://woodinvalleybaptist.org/index.php/happenings/> (video)

Dr. Tim Clarey bio

Tim Clarey received a B.S. in Geology (summa cum laude) in 1982 from Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo, Michigan, followed by a Master of Science in Geology in 1984 from the University of Wyoming and a Master of Science in Hydrogeology in 1993 from Western Michigan University. His Ph.D. in Geology was received in 1996 from Western Michigan University. From 1984 to 1992, Dr. Clarey worked as an exploration geologist at Chevron USA, Inc., developing oil drilling prospects and analyzing assets and lease purchases. He was Full Professor and Geosciences Chair at Delta College in Michigan for 17 years before leaving in 2013 to join the science staff at the Institute for Creation Research, having earlier conducted research with ICR in its FAST program. He has published many papers on various aspects of the Rocky Mountains and has authored two college laboratory books. He is the author of Dinosaurs: Marvels of God's Design and a contributor to Guide to Dinosaurs.

Available resources by Dr. Tim Clarey:

- Guide to Dinosaurs
- Dinosaurs: Marvels of God's Design
- Dinosaurs on Display: A Fossil Walk with the Beasts of the Earth DVD

For links to his articles and technical papers see his Bio at http://www.icr.org/tim_clarey/

For more information, please call 425.481.1075 or visit <http://woodinvalleybaptist.org>